Metamorphosing Refrain

Like a butterfly emerging from its cocoon
I shed my old self, a transformation unspoken
In the journey of change, I find solace and tune
As life's evolving rhythm becomes my token

With each passing season, I embrace the unknown
Like a caterpillar in search of a brand new song Breaking free from the mundane, my spirit is sown
In the sweet symphony of growth, I truly belong

I spread my wings, a kaleidoscope of vibrant hue
Dancing in the sunlight, a breathtaking display
No longer restricted, I transcend and pursue
A metamorphosing refrain, leading me astray

The melodies of life's changes, I gladly embrace Each note a reminder that growth is within my reach

With every transformation, I find a state of grace Metamorphosing refrain, a chorus I passionately beseech

Singing the Transfiguration

Into a symphony of dreams

Harmony dances in the breeze
Whispering secrets to the trees

Joining the cosmic symphony's grand parade,
In our harmonies, we find unity,
Weaving our stories into the tapestry we've made.

III: Serenade of Growth

From the seed of potential, we have grown,
Nurtured by time and seasons' tender touch,
Our melodies carry the echoes of change,
A testament to growth we cherish much.

IV: Melodies Ascending

As our melodies ascend to infinite heights,
We become one with the universe's song,
Embracing our becoming, forever changed,
As the symphony of life plays on and on.
